CH Nouveau Less Is More

(Mouse) won his Grand Champion Title with 5 Majors, taking his first points in October 2010 and was then was out of the ring until July 2011. He has taken BOB or BOS or SD at every show, quite an achievement for a nine year old. He and a number of other Nouveau Papillon currently live with Marichin Uriarte in San Antonio. TX

Letter from the President

Well, here we are at the start of a New Year, New Board, and New Adventures, but I'd like to first thank everyone for all the hard work these previous years. I'm so proud to be a part of such a wonderful club, we are so fortunate to have a group of people who get along so well

We once again participated in the Responsible Dog Ownership Day on September 21 in OKC as a Significant Sponsor Club. This allowed us the ability to meet our AKC qualifications to hold our Specialties. This year we took one step further as PCT sponsored a Patella and Heart Clinic for OFA qualifications. This will help teach people about the importance of Health Screenings along with learning about the Papillon Breed. This will also be advertised Nationally by AKC showing us as the Sponsors.

Also, I'm very excited to announce that we are starting the planning for the 2015 PCA National Specialty. Everyone is very excited and the ideas coming forth were great ones. This will take the effort of the club as a whole and I'd like everyone to be involved if they can. Remember, "Get Your Kicks on Route 66", where all roads do lead to Oklahoma.

Mary

Dates & Places to Remember

PCT meetings are scheduled throughout the year and include socials PLUS get together at numerous nearby dog shows. Our goal is for our PCT members to easily network and play an active part in the club. From the increased size in attendance, this strategy must be working. There are no further meetings scheduled until the dog shows in Fayetteville, AR, October 5th. There is a August pot luck social planned at Marilyn Iliff's home (see the PCT Facebook when there is an announce of time and date set) and the annual Christmas social and meeting (no date set). Looks like a fun year to come. If you have an opinion about the social, email me and I will forward it to the officers.

On the Cover: Marichin Uriarte and Marichin Papillons

Marichine Uriarte was born in Madrid, Spain and studied at one of the oldest universities in Spain, the University of Zaragoza, which is located in the large city by the same name, and located some 200 miles northwest of Madrid and only 75 minutes travel time by speed rail.

When Marichin moved to the United States, she married a man she met while traveling and settled in San Antonio, Texas where she established herself as Marichin Papillons. In Spain, for 14 years she had participated in horse jumping at the international level and worked with her father, selling PVC and Polibutylene pipe and fittings all around the world. As part of that travel, she came to the US to sell polibutylene and met and married her husband. Unfortunately, he was into American saddle and she, into English riding which didn't work so well. Anyway, her bones didn't want to adjust since she'd broken a few in the past.

Marichin stopped horse competition when she married but it was when her 16 year old Yorkie Riky died that she decided to get another dog. Riky had been so special that it took a year to get another dog. She found her first show dog, Tessa, a Monarch papillon, when she attended a dog show. The rest is history, and she just loves it.

Marichin started in Papillons 1999 and later introduced some English bloodlines into her breeding program from Mark Billingham & Mike Foster of Nouveau Papillons. For those unfamiliar with Nouveau Papillons, they were involved with the Papillon (Butterfly Dog) breed for nearly 35 years before retiring from breeding and showing. They started publishing The Illustrated Standard for the Papillon and Phalene. You might enjoy their website, which a classic description such as one might find in On the Cover.

Special Interest: PCT is looking for a New Editor

Marilyn Bauer initiated the the TulsaPaps Newsletter on November 13, 2005, despite the fact that she had never edited or produced a newsletter. It was definitely an act of courage. She had written papers for her Ph.D. and dissertation but that was her biggest obstacle during this tenure. The fact that she could summarize articles in 50 words, limiting the information, helped but it wasn't often that such briefness could be drawn down like the summary at the beginning of a research paper.

When Don Bauer, President (2008 to 2013) requested that she write articles rather than summarize, the learning process began again. Learning to write informative stories in everyday language may seem nature to most but was Don's biggest headache in the editing.

Marilyn thanks her sister, retired editor Kathleen Ward, who taught her better ways of saying the same thing and her husband, Don, for re-reading more times than he'd have preferred when helping her say the same thing in the language of detailed people (Marilyn tends to be very abstract)

To summarize, Marilyn insists that if she can do it, anyone can. So, if this is a something you could consider, why don't you give it a try.

As a novice, a dog show can be a daunting experience. The initial impression is often one of a single-purpose county fair where many grim-faced people run about with numbers on their arms and dogs in tow, and where, only about 1 in 20 of them appear to actually be having fun.

In the right column is a short list of the most frequently-encountered personages at a dog show, and how to identify them by their typical plumage, temperament, demeanor and call(ed): To read more go to www.charlinmanchesters.com/FieldGuide.pdf

The author, Linda Lewin, has bred and shown dogs since the 1970s, including Dalmatians and Manchester Terriers. Currently she is active, judging all-breed and specialty match shows.

Education: A Humorous Look at What Handlers Do:

PROFESSIONAL HANDLERS: Professional Handlers (PH) are those who show dogs for a fee, so the dogs' owners are spared the joys of kneeling in the mud in their own business suit, or having their last pair of pantyhose split on the second day of a 10-day circuit. PH can be discerned from other exhibitors by several methods. One is their somewhat officious and aloof manner around ringside (which is difficult to master when you have muddy knees and/or split pantyhose). Outside the ring, PH rarely acknowledges anyone except the judge (whom they know personally), other PHs (whom they know personally), and their own kennel help (whom they either know rather too personally, or who are from foreign countries and have unpronounceable names, or both). Kennel help, by the way, are those nubile young men and women who race back and forth from the grooming area to ringside like orbiting comets, bringing dogs to their PH to show and taking already-been-shown dogs back to their crates in a never-ending cycle. This is called "learning the business". Meanwhile, the PH stands there, 'dog-less,' squinting at the competition and deciding whether to get his or her armband the usual half-second before going into the ring, or give the steward a real shock and get it a whole minute ahead of time. PH plumage is the nicest seen among those at the dog show, besides that of the judges and the junior handlers, because the kennel help are the ones who do the dirty work outside the ring. PH has no reliable call, but do sometimes change color abruptly in the ring when they don't receive the award they expected. Generally speedier in motion when leaving the ring than when they entered it.

OWNER -HANDLERS: Owner-Handlers (OH) are people who show their own dog(s), rather than hiring a PH. They are roughly divided into two groups: Experienced OH (EOH) and Novice OH (NOH). We will discuss them separately. At first glance, EOH may be difficult to differentiate from PH. Their plumage is similar and their general look of competence, control and 'cool' is the same. The way to tell them apart is outside the ring. EOH always has a dog with them because they don't have kennel help to bring them their dog at ringside. Also, EOHs do talk to people and usually gravitate to, or form on their own, small circle of other EOHs almost from the moment they arrive on the grounds. (The really well established EOH is generally a prominent breeder, and they often arrive at the show with their very own personal circle of communicants, called "disciples".) EOH know everyone who has their breed and they know all the dogs in their breed by registered name, call name, pet name, pedigree, show record and degree of quality (which they are constantly critiquing). This allows them to chatter on freely in rarified terms about the latest breedings, wins, dogs and people without a newcomer having a clue as to what they're talking about. (By contrast, the PH might not even remember the name of the dog they have on the end of the lead at any given moment). If an unknown competitor shows up, EOHs give their dog a quick visual once-over and then talk about it behind their hands. EOHs never buy a catalog. They arrive at the show in enormous motor homes with six ex-pens bungeed on the front, even if they are only showing one Chihuahua that day. However, they only bring their dog and a small bag of equipment to ringside. Distinctive call: "Can I see your catalog a minute?" NOH, on the other hand, are easily picked out. They arrive at the show three hours before they are due to go in, with their St. Bernard stuffed into the back of the family Toyota. To ringside they bring the dog, its crate, its bowl, a water jug, a bag of dog food, a large blanket, three chairs, a Coleman cooler, four kids (two fully ambulatory, one in a stroller and one an infant), the spouse, and a portable TV. They always have their armband on three breeds before theirs is to be judged, and they always buy a catalog (which is how they meet EOHs). For all their advance preparation, NOHs are often the last ones into the ring because by the time their class is actually called, they've passed out from exhaustion. NOHs are generally either overdressed or underdressed for the occasion, and have been known to show their dogs on flat collars and chain leashes. For all that, their typically sweet, earnest, and somewhat addlepatented temperament is among the best one will meet up with at a dog show, although after the eighth time one of them is late for his or her class, it starts to wear thin. The distinctive call is raucous and shouted across the ring to the family: "Hey, Honey, look...we got fourth! Isn't that Great ???!!!"

Upcoming Events . . .

The next PCT meeting will be held after the Papillons show in Fayetteville, October 5th.

Notice:

After eight years as editor, the September issue will be the final newsletter by Marilyn Bauer. Until an editor is located, members can go to our Papillon Club of Tulsa Facebook page to catch up with events. The newsletter has been a sort of permanent collection of information begun in scrapbook form by Katherine Auger. There are two notebooks available for Club members to see.

On the Road in Oklahoma City

It is exciting to see how many of our members won points at the various dog shows in the area. At Oklahoma City, two member's completed their Papillon's championship, Danae Fayard with Demy in Bred-by and Don & Marilyn Bauer with Ellie. We were well represented at the Papillon Club of America's National by Marcy Wyren's Vanilla winning Best of Opposite and Dorothy Fain's Cool J, 4th, in open.

We want to welcome new members Tonia Perry of Bastrop, Louisiana ; Toni & Ron White, of Bixby, Oklahoma and Carol Schmidt of Saint Paul, Minnesota..

Lastly, don't forget that Friday, March 28th will be the date for the back-to-back 2014 Specialty to be held in Claremore, Oklahoma. Claremore Kennel Club will have their all-breed show on March 29 and March 30.

Don & Marilyn Bauer's Pilot Lockheed Electra (Ellie) (pictured right) won her first points towards her championship in Claremore, finished it in OKC and, after a six weeks break, completed her Grand Championship in Topeka, handled by Jana Klein.

Dorothy Fain's KEN MAR COOL J (right) won 4th place Open at the PCA National (handled by Don Colvard). At OKC he won BW/BOBOH/OHG4. We're going to see a lot more of this young man ;-)

Marcy Wyren's GCH Lily's Strawberry Fields (Vanilla) (right) won BOS at the 2013 PCA Nation in Lexington, KY and is currently in the AKC top 20 Papillons. Congratulations to Marcy and Vanilla!!!

Sally Hill's GCH AM Blazen IM The Purist Of All (Candido), who is in the top 20 Papillons, won an Award of Merit and Blazen Admire It's All About Me Papillon National 2013 Kentucky. Way to go, Sissy!!!

Congratulation to Alexa & RJ on Best Junior and making him a Bronze Level Grand Champion at Mesquite TX

Patsy Kirk's Swaze wins BW in San Antonio. Five points to go!!!

It is with sadness that Mary Havel lost her beloved Cooper "CH Calivar Mini Cooper" in a freak accident. He was indeed a beautiful Papillon who will be greatly missed.

Tonia Perry's CH Windlake Party On (Tiger) won Best of Breed in Jackson MS and Owner handler Group 1 and Owner handler Best in Show! I am (Pictured above in Longview where he took a Select).

What a great group we have!!! It was definite a summer to remember ;-)

Paula Cox's Gerby (puppy above) was best op in the beginner puppy competition at the Dallas toy show. Pippa's Grand Champion is GCH Copella Mirage Almost A Princess and Pixel (pictured) is a new champion picture. BIS BISS GCH Namaste Another Roadside Attraction (Dylan) finished his CH by going BIS from the classes at 14 months of age and finishing his GCH, winning Best In Show Owner Handled at eight years of age, placing in veteran at the PCA in May as a veteran.
